

LIQUID HYDROGEN FUELED AIRCRAFT

Abstract

An aircraft powered with a non-hydrocarbon based fuel source, such as liquid hydrogen. The fuselage contains two elongated cylindrical-type sections positioned side-by-side and joined firmly together. One of the sections houses at least one fuel tank, while the other section can be used to transport passengers, freight and the like.